Can GFBio help me develop my own Data Management Plan (DMP)?

Short Answer

Yes, we can.

Detailed Answer

Certainly. Developing custom-tailored DMPs is a key service of GFBio. DMPs are living documents helping you to organize and update all relevant information on the handling of your research data before and during your research project. Learn more about data management planning or contact our helpdesk for information and support.