

What licenses apply to my submitted data? Can I choose a license?

Short Answer

There are different types of licenses that can be used.

Detailed Answer

For data that are submitted to GFBio, one of the creative commons licenses can/should be chosen.

We recommend CC BY, as this means that you need to be cited as the author of the data set, just like it is the case for scientific paper publication citations.